Suicide, Noun is a Science Fiction webcomic about a high school freshman with depression and how things almost never go according to plan (and how that's not always a bad thing). Ethan Triston is a 14 year old boy who decides to kill himself after failing to ask his crush out. He even gets himself jumping headfirst off a bridge on film, but when he crawls out of the river that same night, he learns that he might actually be unable to die at all. Suicide, Noun is about how life is shitty and unpredictable and sometimes you just have to roll with the punches and turn them into punchlines instead. Your whole world can turn upside down, but you still have to make it to class the next morning and you still have to remember your aunt's birthday, whether there's some immortality conspiracy or whether you got stabbed to death the morning before. And sometimes, it's that same aunt who stabbed you. She's kind of an asshole.
